

IARTEM Mini Conference 2010
Montreal, Canada
Call for proposals

The Department of Education, Concordia University, Montreal, Canada is pleased to host the IARTEM Mini conference from August 22-24, 2010.

This year's Mini Conference aims to provide an intellectual space for scholarship focused on Constructions of conflict and peace in/by textbooks and educational media. There are six sub-themes that engage with the broader conference theme. (1) The role of Textbooks and educational media in post-disaster situations (2) The role of Textbooks and educational media in conflict and post-conflict societies, (3) The role of Textbooks and educational media in construction/resolution of domestic conflicts (Ethnic, Racial, Gender, Class), (4) The role of Textbooks and educational media in constructing defenses of peace, (5) The role of Textbooks and educational media in constructions and/or resolution of conflict (and war) between states, and (6) Textbooks and educational media and the construction of identities (Ethnic, national, regional, religious, etc). Additionally, papers related to epistemic conflicts and tensions in textbooks (Example: Creationism vs. evolutionism; qualitative vs. quantitative, etc.) will also be considered.

Call for Proposals

You are invited to submit proposals for individual or multi-author presentations addressing the main theme or any of the sub-themes of the conference.

- The maximum length of the proposal shall not exceed 250-300 words.
- Please clearly indicate in your proposal the conference theme(s) within which you wish to present your paper.
- Please provide the full names, affiliations, mailing addresses, telephone and fax numbers, and e-mail addresses of all authors, indicating the contact author. (See guidelines for proposal submission).
- Please indicate your Audio-Visual needs for the presentation.
- The deadline for proposal submission is June 15, 2010.
- Notification of acceptance will be on a rolling base with the final notifications sent out on July 1, 2010.
- Acceptance notifications will only be sent to the first author. It will be the responsibility of the first author to inform the other authors.

Proposals may be submitted in MS Word or pdf formats by email to the mini Conference Chair Dr. M. Ayaz Naseem as email attachment at:

ayaz.naseem@education.concordia.ca

Please write IARTEM Mini Conference Proposal in the subject line.

Participation in the mini conference is limited.

Conference Registration

Registration fee: Euro 150

Registration deadline: July 15, 2010

In order to present at the conference you must be a member of the IARTEM and pay registration fee by the deadline. For IARTEM membership go to www.iartem.no

Conference registration can be paid through cheque, bank draft, money order, etc. made in favor of IARTEM Mini Conference. Payments can be mailed to:

Dr. M. Ayaz Naseem
Associate Professor of Education
Concordia University
LB-579,
1455 deMaisonneuve Blvd. West
Montreal, Quebec, H3G 1M8
CANADA

Key Deadlines

Proposal submission: June 15, 2010

July 1, 2010: Acceptance notification

Registration: July 15, 2010

Accommodation

Accommodation details will be posted shortly